

*Come with me to a quiet place and get some rest:
Matthew 6:31*

Come to Heddiw – a quiet place on Anglesey.

Heddiw means Today in Welsh.

It's a cottage next to our house and we are offering it, in return for a charitable donation, whatever you can afford, as a place of quiet reflection and retreat.

Heddiw has one double bedroom, a bathroom with shower, a lounge with bed settee and a conservatory.

The kitchen has all you need to be self-contained.

There is a workshop with art materials and wifi.

Heddiw is surrounded by gardens, and looks out onto Snowdonia and the Llyn Peninsula.

Come and stay for up to a week, between the beginning of March and the end of October.

Be still, and be refreshed.

For further information contact

Rev Dr Diane, and Nigel Holmes.

Tel 01283 430492, or by email; dibach55@hotmail.com

